

Above—New and beautiful camera study of Miss Evangeline Brewster Johnson, one of the most popular young women in New York society.
Photo, Bruguiere.

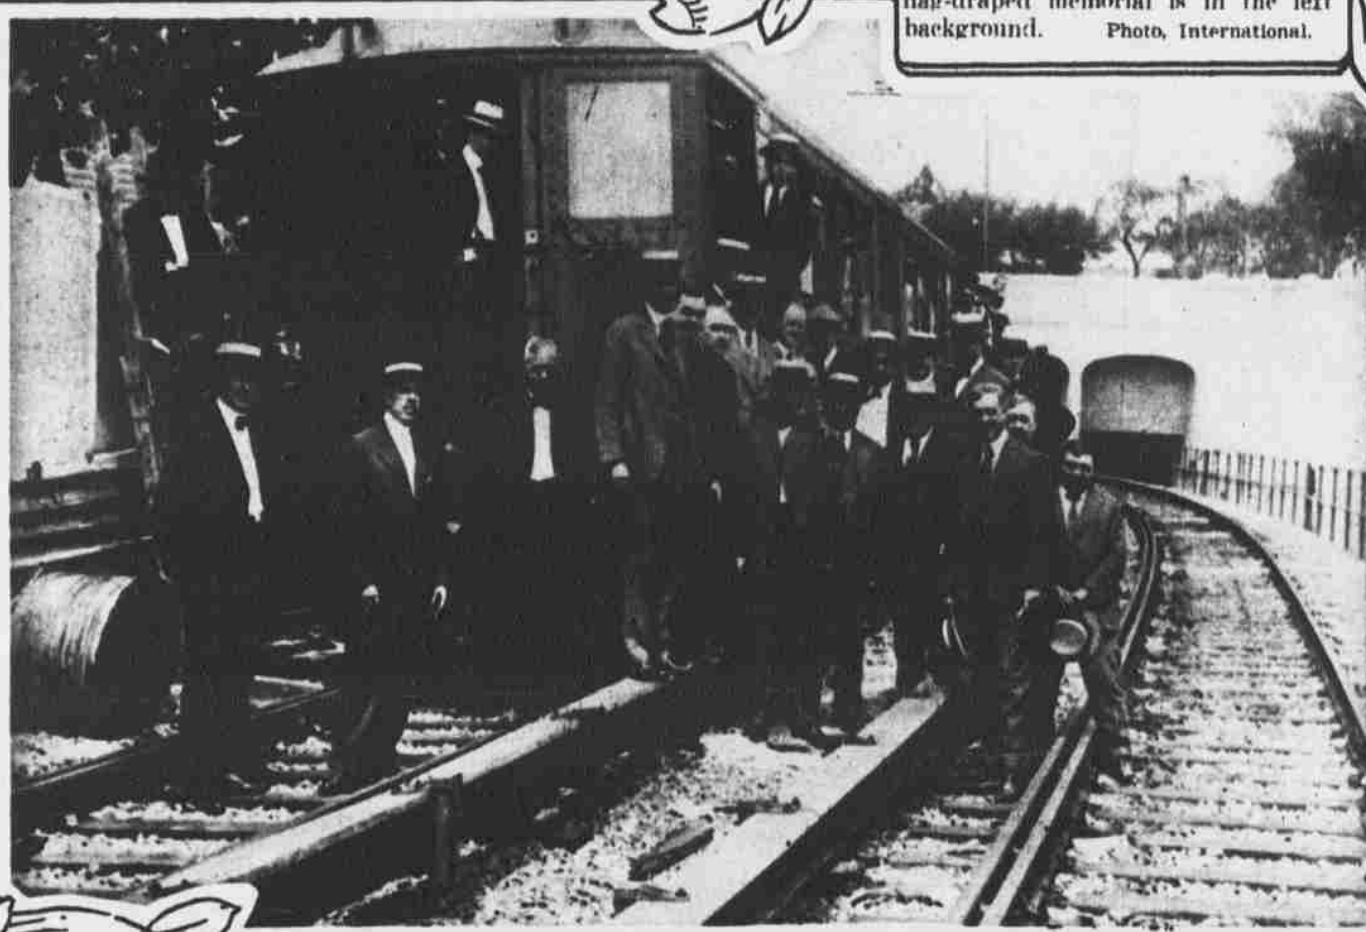

Remarkable picture of Premier Lloyd George. He is singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" at the recent unveiling of the St. Gaudens statue of Lincoln in London. The flag-draped memorial is in the left background. Photo, International.

Graphic example of the reconstruction of France and Belgium. Photograph shows how Lille has restored its City Hall and theatre. Note the piles of shell smashed bricks and stones. Photo, Wide World.

At right—City and subway officials inspecting the new Nostrand avenue and Eastern Parkway links of the Interborough system, opened just a week ago. One may ride from Van Cortlandt Park to Flatbush for five cents.
Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

In circle—American agricultural implements are proving important factors in restoring devastated France. One of the American committee's workers is demonstrating a wheel hoe.

The luncheon and tea garden at 16 East Thirty-ninth street, maintained by the American Committee for Devastated France, is doing much to help raise funds for the work. Miss Helen Tuck of the New York office is taking the luncheon orders of Mrs. James C. Mumford of Boston (at right) and Mrs. Manton B. Metcalf of New York.